7. Public participation in Local Government

Liverpool Plains Shire Council offers several methods for members of the public to participate in the formulation of Council's policies and implementation of its functions.

7.1 Representation

Local Government in Australia is based on the principle of representative democracy, meaning that citizens elect representatives to their local council to make decisions on their behalf. In New South Wales, elections are ordinarily held every four years. The next Local Government elections are scheduled to be held in September 2024.

At each election, voters elect seven Councillors. All residents of the area who are on the electoral roll are eligible to vote. Property owners who live outside of the Liverpool Plains Shire local government area and rate-paying lessees can also vote, but must register their intention to vote on the non-residential roll. Voting is compulsory.

Residents can raise issues with, and make representations to, the elected Councillors. Councillors, if they agree with the issue or representation, may pursue the matter on the resident's behalf. Councillors' contact details are available online from Council's website at www.liverpoolplains.nsw.gov.au and can be obtained from Council's Administration Centre at 60 Station Street, Quirindi.

Members of the public wishing to speak at a public forum must complete and submit the approved form prior to 12.00 Midday the day prior to the meeting.
